Here are some questions to ask your eye doctor to see if this is right for you.

What is important to you when selecting an option that helps your blurry close-up vision?

Check all that apply:

- ☐ Lasts a typical 8-hour workday
- ☐ Only needs to be used once a day
- ☐ Has been studied for at least 1 year
- ☐ Doesn't need to be refrigerated
- ☐ Doesn't require extra items to keep track of
- ☐ Allows me to stay active
- ☐ Doesn't require surgery

As you consider your options, it's important to tell your eye doctor about your medical history.

Do any of these apply to you?

- ☐ Eye disease or inflamed iris (iritis)
- ☐ Retinal disease
- ☐ Depression
- ☐ Low blood pressure
- ☐ Circulation problems
- ☐ Pregnant or nursing
